

GENERAL TERMS & CONDITIONS OF SALE

1. Area of Application

- 1.1 All orders accepted by Eurofins Experchem Laboratories Inc. ("Experchem Canada") from the undersigned ("Client") will be governed by these General Terms and Conditions of Sale (the "Terms"), including orders placed by telephone, electronic message, electronic ordering systems, Experchem Canada-approved sample dispatch sheets, or made by delivery of samples. A contract with these Terms comes into being when an order has been placed with Experchem Canada, and the order is accepted by Experchem Canada. An order placed with Experchem Canada is considered as accepted by Experchem Canada when (a) Experchem Canada proceeds to fulfill that order or (b) Experchem Canada accepts the order in writing. All services provided by Experchem Canada are expressly limited to, and will only be provided on the basis of, the terms and conditions stated herein and to the exclusion of all other terms and conditions, including any terms or conditions which Client may purport to impose or which appear on any website, purchase order, purchasing document, order confirmation, correspondence or other document or communication provided by Client, irrespective of their date of communication.
- 1.2 These Terms set forth the entire agreement between Experchem Canada and Client, and supersede all prior and contemporaneous negotiations, agreements, representations, understandings, and commitments with respect thereto. Notwithstanding anything herein to the contrary, to the extent the parties have entered into a master services agreement, the terms of such master services agreement shall supersede these Terms. The parties agree that their standard terms, conditions, and pre-printed provisions on any purchase order, acknowledgment, release or other purchasing document purporting to address the same subject matter shall be null and void and of no force or effect, whether such terms conflict with or purport to add terms to these Terms. Experchem Canada hereby rejects any prior offer made by Client to purchase services, and objects to and rejects any additional or different terms proposed by Client with respect to the subject matter of these Terms, including, but not limited to, warranties of suitability, fitness or non-infringement, requirements for Experchem Canada to indemnify Client, pay damages that are unlimited in amount or pay indirect damages of any kind (including, but not limited to, consequential, incidental, punitive or special damages, and damages for lost profits or revenue, loss of use, business interruption, loss of information or for the procurement of substitute services). No employee, agent or subcontractor, other than an authorized officer of Experchem Canada, has the authority to alter or waive any of these Terms as to Experchem Canada or to make any representation on behalf of Experchem Canada which conflicts with or purports to override any of these Terms; and no such alteration, waiver or representation shall be binding upon Experchem Canada, unless it is in writing and signed by an authorized officer of Experchem Canada to be bound.
- 1.3 Experchem Canada is a separate, independent and distinct legal entity having a common, ultimate parent entity. Experchem Canada has severally, but not jointly, entered into these Terms with Client in order to facilitate its business relationship with Client. As such, these Terms shall only apply to and bind Experchem Canada for Services identified in orders that are accepted by Experchem Canada. As a result, the parties acknowledge and agree that in no event shall Experchem Canada (i) be jointly and severally liable with any other Eurofins legal entity, (ii) have any obligation or liability with respect to an order which it did not accept or Services it did not provide, (iii) have any obligation or liability with respect to any order accepted by any other Eurofins legal entity or Services provided by any other Eurofins legal entity, or (iv) have any obligation or liability with respect to any act or omission of any other Eurofins legal entity. These Terms shall be interpreted strictly in accordance with the intent of this paragraph. Each order accepted by Experchem Canada establishes a separate stand-alone contract between Experchem Canada and Client.

2. Performance of Services

- 2.1 Experchem Canada will perform food and feed testing services in accordance with an order accepted by it (the "Services"). Experchem Canada warrants that all Services provided by it will be performed in a good and workmanlike manner with reasonable skill, care and diligence.
- 2.2 A request for any change to the scope or nature of the Services to be provided under any order shall, if mutually agreed, be set forth in an amended order which shall include any change to estimated delivery dates and fees as agreed by the parties. A request for additional services on Samples (defined herein) that have entered the laboratory will be treated as a new order and may postpone estimated delivery dates accordingly. Analytical services may not be cancelled or modified by Client after testing is initiated.
- 2.3 Any logistic service off-site of Client's facility must be paid in full, unless such order has been cancelled or modified by Client at least forty-eight (48) hours in advance for collection services, ninety-six (96) hours in advance for sampling services and one (1) week in advance for auditing services.

3. Price and Terms of Payment

- 3.1 Client shall compensate Experchem Canada for Experchem Canada's provision of Services and reimburse Experchem Canada for costs incurred by it in providing Services according to the terms stated in the applicable order.
- 3.2 The price for the Services does not include any federal, provincial, territorial, county, municipal, local or foreign taxes, charges, fees, levies, imposts or other assessments, including sales taxes, use taxes, excise taxes, goods and services tax, value added tax, country-specific business or professional services tax or similar tax on international services or foreign entities providing services, consumption taxes, packaging or shipping charges. Client shall assume and shall be solely responsible for any such applicable taxes. Applicable taxes are those in force at the date of invoicing.

- 3.3 Payment of all invoices is due strictly within thirty (30) days of the invoice date, other than amounts being disputed in good faith which shall require written notice to be given to Experchem Canada on or before the due date of the invoice, specifying in reasonable detail the nature of the dispute. Client agrees to pay all undisputed amounts as provided above. The challenge of an analytical result will not entitle Client to defer payment. Client acknowledges that Client's failure to pay when due any amount owing to Experchem Canada pursuant to these Terms or otherwise may result in administrative, collection and other costs to Experchem Canada, which costs are estimated to be Seventy-Five Dollars ($75) for each failure to pay. Client agrees to pay such estimated amount (in addition to the payment of the overdue amount) as reimbursement for such costs of Experchem as liquidated damages and not as a penalty. The acceptance of any payment of such estimated amount will not be construed as a waiver by Experchem Canada of its rights in respect of the default giving rise to such payment. All late payments may also carry interest at the rate of one percent (1%) per month (12% per annum).
- 3.4 Invoices are subject to a minimum invoice charge of One Hundred Dollars ($100). Experchem Canada has the right to charge an administrative fee of up to Fifteen Dollars ($15) to re-issue an invoice.
- 3.5 The invoice settlement method is check, bank transfer or direct debit. Any other method of payment must receive prior agreement from Experchem Canada. Client undertakes to provide bank account details.
- 3.6 Experchem Canada is entitled to require prepayment of up to one hundred percent (100%) of the order price as a condition of acceptance.
- 3.7 In addition, even if Experchem Canada has accepted and begun to fulfill an order, it has the right at any time to stop performing Services if Client's account is overdue for that order or any other order.
- 3.8 Client shall pay all collection costs, including attorney's fees and related costs, incurred by Experchem Canada.

4. Duties of Client in Delivering Samples

- 4.1 Client shall provide Experchem Canada with sufficient amounts of all samples or materials to be tested (the "Samples") together with all other information necessary for Experchem Canada to perform the Services including information relating to the storage and safety requirements of the Samples.
- 4.2 Client hereby warrants to Experchem Canada that all Samples provided to Experchem Canada by Client for analysis are, to the best of Client's knowledge: (i) organized and ready for analysis; (ii) free of foreign materials or substances that were not previously reported by Client; (iii) safe and in a stable condition for and during transportation, storage under normal conditions, and use in connection with instruments and by personnel or representatives; (iv) labeled appropriately and in compliance with applicable laws if they contain dangerous or hazardous materials; (v) labeled appropriately and in compliance with applicable laws if refrigerated or frozen storage is required; (vi) accompanied by any relevant occupational health and safety information, including such information required by applicable law; and (vii) delivered to Experchem Canada free of any third party intellectual property restrictions that would impact the provision of the Services by Experchem Canada or may cause Experchem Canada to infringe, violate or misappropriate or contribute to infringement, violate or misappropriate of the intellectual property rights of any third party. Client shall bear all extraordinary costs for adequate disposal of hazardous waste resulting from the Samples, whether or not described as hazardous waste. At Experchem Canada's request, Client must provide Experchem Canada with the exact composition of the Samples if Samples are believed to be hazardous.
- 4.3 Experchem Canada will conduct an initial examination of the Samples to check their condition before any Services are performed. If the Samples do not comply with the requirements described in these Terms or any order, then Experchem Canada will notify Client regarding the non-compliance. With Client's approval, Experchem Canada may: (i) prepare the Samples for use as set forth in these Terms which may result in an additional charge to Client for such preparation and a delay to the order which will be documented via a written modification to the order; (ii) terminate the order if the result of the initial examination indicates that an analysis or production is impossible or is possible only under more difficult conditions than originally anticipated, and Client shall pay to Experchem Canada all expenses incurred before the effective date of termination of the order; or (iii) modify the order in writing as agreed upon by the parties to facilitate completion of the order based upon correction of the non-compliance.
- 4.4 Client is responsible for the proper delivery of Samples sent to Experchem Canada for the performance of the Services. Unless otherwise specifically agreed in writing by Experchem Canada, Experchem Canada accepts no responsibility for any loss or damage which may occur to any Samples in transit or to any facility or site where logistics services are being delivered. Client will at all times be liable for the security, packaging and insurance of the Samples from its dispatch until it is delivered to Experchem Canada's facility.

5. Property Rights on Samples and Sample Storage

- 5.1 Client hereby grants Experchem Canada a license and right to use the Samples solely to the extent necessary for the performance of the Services.
- 5.2 Experchem Canada shall take commercially reasonable steps to store the Samples according to professional practice; however, Experchem Canada will have no obligation or liability for Samples sent to Experchem Canada for storage, including Samples requiring refrigeration. Experchem Canada shall not be held responsible for any loss or destruction of Samples, unless such loss or destruction is caused by its gross negligence or willful misconduct.

- 5.3 Experchem Canada can dispose of or destroy Samples immediately after the Services have been performed, unless Experchem Canada and Client have agreed in writing on the terms and associated costs of Experchem Canada's retention of the Samples. Experchem Canada also can dispose of or destroy the Samples after the agreed upon retention period, without further notice and at Client's cost, should an extra cost for Experchem Canada arise to comply with any regulation (for example, with respect to disposal of hazardous waste). If Client requests the return of Samples, Experchem Canada will return them to Client, at Client's sole cost and risk.

6. Report Terms

- 6.1 Any data analyses and reports will be prepared in Experchem Canada's standard format and in accordance with Experchem Canada's standard operating procedures, unless otherwise agreed in writing. Client shall notify Experchem Canada in writing before the commencement of any of the Services if there are any specific documentation requirements related to the testing. Additional fees may apply for Client specific documentation requirements.
- 6.2 Where statements of conformity to a specification or standard for a test are included on an analytical report (e.g. pass/fail, in tolerance/out-of-tolerance), this decision shall be made in accordance with applicable laws. Where there are no applicable laws, this decision shall be based on the numerical result without consideration of the uncertainty of the result unless otherwise agreed to in writing by Experchem Canada and Client, and set forth in an amendment to the relevant order.

7. Estimated Delivery Dates and Turnaround Times

- 7.1 Delivery dates and turnaround times stated in any order are estimates and do not constitute a commitment by Experchem Canada. Nevertheless, Experchem Canada shall make commercially reasonable efforts to meet the estimated delivery dates and turnaround times as stated in each order.
- 7.2 Unless a different delivery method is specified in writing, analytical reports are sent by email or via other electronic means, to the attention of the persons indicated by Client in the order, promptly after the analysis is completed.
- 7.3 Experchem Canada shall not be responsible for any delays in the timely progression of the Services to the extent any such delay is attributable to Client action or inaction. During the performance of the Services, Client shall use commercially reasonable efforts to provide any approvals required to be given by Client to Experchem Canada in a timely manner.

8. Transfer of Property and Intellectual Property Rights

- 8.1 Title in any analysis results, analytical reports, or other work product (the "Results") supplied by Experchem Canada to Client shall remain with Experchem Canada until all invoices in respect thereof have been paid by Client in full, and until such full payment, Client shall have no ownership or property rights therein.
- 8.2 Experchem Canada shall be entitled to store, aggregate, and use any System Data generated as a result of the performance of the Services. "System Data" means control data from laboratory tests or transactional, volume and performance data related to the Services, which does not contain (i) any personally identifiable information; or (ii) Client Confidential Information.
- 8.3 Client hereby acknowledges and agrees that any and all inventions, discoveries, trade secrets, know-how, improvements, methods, systems, software programs, practices, procedures and processes, and proprietary materials including, but not limited to, structural and functional information and other data repository, formulations and techniques, whether or not patentable or copyrightable ("Intellectual Property"), that is owned or controlled by Experchem Canada as of the date hereof, or that is developed, conceived or reduced to practice outside of the performance of the Services by Experchem Canada, and all modifications or improvements thereto, shall vest in, be the property of, and shall be owned solely and exclusively by, Experchem Canada ("Experchem Canada Background IP"). Client hereby acknowledges and agrees that any and all Intellectual Property that is developed, conceived or reduced to practice by representatives of Experchem Canada in the performance of the Services and that is (i) within the field of Experchem Canada Background IP, and (ii) does not rely on or incorporate Client's Samples or Confidential Information ("Experchem Canada Developed IP"), is not part of the Results and shall vest in and be the sole and exclusive property of Experchem Canada. Client shall be allowed to use Experchem Canada Background IP and Experchem Canada Developed IP, at no cost to Client, to the extent it is incorporated into the Results.

9. Litigation Support Services

- 9.1 Each order shall identify whether any of the Services requested may be used by Client for litigation support ("Litigation Support Services"). Experchem Canada may, in its sole discretion, accept or reject any request to perform Litigation Support Services. Except as expressly agreed by Experchem Canada, no Services or Results may be used as Litigation Support Services.
- 9.2 In the event that Experchem Canada decides to perform the Litigation Support Services, Client represents and warrants that any such Services shall not be used against other food, beverage, supplement, or other consumer product manufacturers, sellers or their agents unless specifically agreed by Experchem Canada in advance.

9.3 If Experchem Canada is required to provide testimony or records regarding any of the Services provided hereunder, including Litigation Support Services, in connection with any legal, governmental or administrative process or proceeding, for any reason other than improper performance by Experchem Canada of the Services, then Client shall reimburse Experchem Canada for its reasonable costs, including the cost for time spent preparing and providing such information.

10. Limited Warranties and Responsibilities

10.1 Analyses, interpretations, assessments, consulting work and conclusions are prepared with a commercially reasonable degree of care, but Experchem Canada cannot guarantee that Results will always be exact or relevant. Results are influenced by outside factors including, but not limited to, the condition of the Samples when received by Experchem Canada, the current state of (and limitations of) technology and methods developed and generally applied by Experchem Canada (i.e. methods for testing food, dietary supplements and infant formula), applicable testing tolerances, selection of testing methodologies from among available options, and the impact of contaminants or undisclosed/unknown substances contained in a Sample. As a result, the Results may not always be 100% exact or relevant. This limited warranty expires six (6) months after the delivery date of the Samples, if the order does not specifically state otherwise. Due to the inherent limitations of testing factors described above, Client must independently verify the validity of any Results, interpretations, assessments and conclusions supplied by Experchem Canada if it wishes to rely on the same in respect of matters of importance, and shall do so at its own risk.

10.2 Unless specifically agreed otherwise in writing, analyses to be performed for Client shall be assumed to be on Samples to be used for non-pharmaceutical purposes. Any analysis Client requires to be done for Samples used for pharmaceutical purposes or for the purposes of supporting work under regulations other than those governing food, dietary supplements or infant formula shall be subject to separate regulatory standards to be agreed in writing by Experchem Canada and Client.

10.3 Each Result relates exclusively to the Sample analyzed by Experchem Canada. If Experchem Canada has not expressly been mandated and paid for the definition of the sampling plan (including which raw materials or finished products to sample and at which frequency they should be analyzed) and the definition of the precise range of analysis to be performed, or if Client has not followed Experchem Canada's recommendations, Experchem Canada shall not bear any responsibility if the sampling plan or the range of analysis to be performed prove to be insufficient or inappropriate. In all cases, Client's interpretations, assessments and conclusions derived from the Results of the Services provided by Experchem Canada are solely Client's responsibility.

10.4 Each party hereby represents to the other party that: (i) it has full power and authority to enter into these Terms and the undersigned is its duly authorized representative; (ii) these Terms have been duly authorized; (iii) these Terms are binding upon it; and (iv) performance of these Terms does not conflict with any other legal obligation of the party.

10.5 Unless explicitly agreed in writing by all parties, the contractual relationship shall be exclusively between Client and Experchem Canada. There shall be no third party beneficiary or collateral warranty relating to any Services.

11. Indemnification and Limitation of Liability

11.1 Experchem Canada shall defend, indemnify and hold harmless Client from and against those liabilities, costs, damages, suits, actions, debts, charges and expenses (including reasonable legal fees, court costs and any amounts paid in settlement) ("Damages") claimed by a third party against Client as a direct result of Experchem Canada's gross negligence or willful misconduct; provided, however, Experchem Canada shall have no obligation under this Section 11.1 for any Damages to the extent attributable to the negligence or willful misconduct of Client.

11.2 Client shall defend, indemnify and hold harmless Experchem Canada and its affiliates and its and their respective employees, officers, directors, agents, representatives, successors and assigns from and against any Damages claimed by a third party against Experchem Canada; provided, however, that Client shall not be liable for any Damages to the extent attributable to the negligence or willful misconduct of Experchem Canada.

11.3 Except to the extent that such limitations are not permitted or are void under applicable law, in no event shall Experchem Canada or Client be responsible for any indirect, consequential, incidental, exemplary punitive or special damages or damages for lost profits or revenue, loss of use, business interruption, loss of information, or for the procurement of substitute services of each other or of any third party, even if it has been advised of the potential for such damages and regardless of whether such damages arise in contract, negligence, tort, under statute, in equity, at law or otherwise. In all cases, Experchem Canada's liability for any claim or series of related claims of Client or of any third party arising under or relating to these Terms shall be limited to the value of the Services to which such claim relates.

12. Remedy for Deficient Services and Repeated Analysis

12.1 In the event that any Services are improperly or inadequately performed by Experchem Canada, Client's sole and exclusive remedy, and Experchem Canada's sole obligation and entire liability, with respect to such deficient Services shall be for Client to either: (i) require Experchem Canada to re-perform such improper or deficient Services, subject to the provisions of Section 12.2 below, or (ii) request a refund of all amounts paid to Experchem Canada for such improperly or inadequately performed Services.

12.2 Objections to Results must be made within thirty (30) days after Client receives the Results. However, unless the results of the repeated analysis do not match those of the original analysis in all material respects, Client shall bear the costs of the repeat testing or review. Furthermore, a repeated analysis will be possible only if Experchem Canada has a sufficient amount of the original Samples on hand when it receives Client's objection. Otherwise, Client will be required to pay all costs, including sampling, transportation, analytical and disposal costs for the repeat analysis.

13. Force Majeure

13.1 Neither party shall be held liable for delays, errors, damages or other problems caused by events or circumstances which are unforeseen or beyond such party's reasonable control, or which result from compliance with governmental requests, laws and regulations.

14. Processing of Client Data

14.1 Experchem Canada shall be entitled to save and process personal or commercial data received from Client in any way, no matter whether such data stem from Client directly or from a third party and shall use commercially reasonable efforts to keep such data confidential, in compliance with applicable law.

14.2 Experchem Canada shall use commercially reasonable efforts to keep all Results confidential, subject to Experchem Canada's rights set forth in clause 8.2 and the right to use them in order to demonstrate its entitlement to payment for Services rendered.

14.3 Results are prepared and supplied exclusively for the use of Client and should not be divulged to a third party for any purpose without the prior written agreement of Experchem Canada, which may be granted or withheld in its sole discretion. Results may not be publicly disclosed or used to make or support a comparison with any other person or entity's products or services without the prior written consent of Experchem Canada. Even if such written consent is given by Experchem Canada, Client (a) remains responsible for any consequences due to the divulgence and use of such Results and any reliance of a third party on such Results and (b) hereby agrees to indemnify Experchem Canada against any liability which Experchem Canada may incur as a result of such divulgence or any such third party reliance.

15. Confidentiality

15.1 From time to time, the parties may exchange Confidential Information in furtherance of the performance of the Services. A party disclosing Confidential Information shall be referred to as the "Disclosing Party" and a party receiving Confidential Information shall be referred to as the "Receiving Party". "Confidential Information" shall mean any non-public, proprietary information (whether or not patentable or copyrightable, and whether or not currently patented or copyrighted) which is owned or controlled by a Disclosing Party, whether in tangible or intangible form and including information that is derived through observation or examination of the Disclosing Party's facilities or operations, including without limitation, the fact that any party has entered into these Terms or provided or obtained services from the other, trade secrets, know-how, designs, product samples, product formulations, prototypes, data, processes, formulas, methods, materials, analyses, reports, compilations, research notes, technology, manufacturing techniques, pricing, the identity of and information relating to services, equipment, procedures, customers, suppliers or employees, sales and marketing information, financial information and any other non-public business information.

15.2 The Receiving Party shall protect and hold in confidence all Confidential Information of the Disclosing Party, using the same degree of care it uses to protect its own valuable information, provided it shall use no less than reasonable care. The Receiving Party shall limit its disclosure of the Confidential Information to its directors, officers, employees, affiliates and/or subcontractors (collectively, "Representatives") who "need-to-know" such Confidential Information to carry out the Services, and who are subject to legally enforceable obligations in connection with such Confidential Information, which are no less restrictive than those imposed on the Receiving Party under these Terms. The Receiving Party also shall not reverse engineer or copy the design, samples or prototypes, or any components thereof, of any Confidential Information for any purpose. The Receiving Party shall be responsible for any breach of these Terms by its Representatives.

15.3 Confidential Information shall not include information which (a) is or becomes generally available to the public other than as a result of a breach of these Terms by the Receiving Party; (b) was rightfully in the Receiving Party's possession prior to receipt from the Disclosing Party as evidenced by the Receiving Party's contemporaneously written records; (c) is received by the Receiving Party from a third party on a non-confidential basis, unless the Receiving Party knows that the third party is bound by an obligation of confidentiality (contractual, legal, fiduciary or otherwise) to the Disclosing Party or any other party with respect to such information; or (d) is or was independently developed by the Receiving Party without reference to or reliance upon the Confidential Information received from the Disclosing Party as evidenced by the Receiving Party's contemporaneously written records.

15.4 Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained in these Terms, Confidential Information may be disclosed by a Receiving Party as required by applicable law or legal process, provided the Receiving Party notifies the Disclosing Party prior to such disclosure, except where impracticable or prohibited by law, so as to afford the Disclosing Party a reasonable opportunity to object or seek an appropriate protective order with respect to such disclosure. Notwithstanding the foregoing, Confidential Information that is disclosed pursuant to applicable law or legal process shall remain Confidential Information for all other purposes of these Terms.

15.5 At the written request of the Disclosing Party, the Receiving Party shall return or destroy, at the Disclosing Party's option, all Confidential Information, provided, however that the Receiving Party may retain one (1) copy of any such Confidential Information for legal archival purposes and any electronic back-up copies maintained in the ordinary course of business.

16. Term; Termination

- 16.1 These Terms shall be effective on the date last signed below and shall continue in effect until terminated by either party as permitted by this Section 16 (the “Term”).
- 16.2 A party may terminate these Terms at any time for any reason upon at least sixty (60) days prior written notice to the other party. These Terms may be terminated by either party effective immediately upon written notice if (i) the other party commits a material breach of any term of these Terms which breach is irremediable or, if such breach is remediable, such breach remains uncured thirty (30) days after written notice of such breach (or five (5) days in the case of a failure to make payment of any invoice when due) is received; or (ii) the other party files becomes insolvent, is generally unable to pay, or fails to pay, its debts as they become due, files a petition for bankruptcy or commences or has commenced against it proceedings relating to bankruptcy, receivership, reorganization, arrangement or assignment for the benefit of creditors.
- 16.3 Upon termination of these Terms, Client shall pay Experchem Canada within thirty (30) days following the effective date of termination, any and all amounts due and owing for Services performed and documented expenses incurred up to the effective date of termination.
- 16.4 Upon termination of these Terms as permitted by this Section 16, neither party shall have any further obligations hereunder except for (i) obligations accruing prior to the date of termination, and (ii) obligations, promises, or covenants set forth herein that by their nature are meant to extend beyond the Term including, without limitation, Sections 8 (Transfer of Property and Intellectual Property Rights), 9 (Litigation Support Services), 11 (Indemnification and Limitation of Liability), 15 (Confidentiality) and 19.1 (No Publicity). The provisions of this Section together with any other section which is necessary for the interpretation or enforcement of these Terms shall survive the expiry or termination of these Terms howsoever arising.

17. Insurance

- 17.1 Throughout the Term, each party will maintain insurance of such types and in such amounts as are comparable to those maintained by similarly situated companies in the industry and as are commercially reasonable in light of the parties’ respective obligations and the Services to be performed under these Terms or any order.

18. Subcontracting; Assignment

- 18.1 Experchem Canada is hereby authorized to subcontract any or all Services requested by Client to any of its affiliates or to a third party. Experchem Canada who subcontracts Services shall be responsible for the performance of its subcontractors as and to the same extent Experchem Canada would be responsible had it directly performed such Services.
- 18.2 No party shall assign, by merger, reorganization, operation of law or otherwise, or transfer any obligation or right of such party under these Terms (“Assign”) to any other person or entity without the prior written consent of the other party, and any attempt to Assign these Terms without such consent shall be void; provided, however, that a party may Assign these Terms without such consent to an affiliate or to a purchaser of all or substantially all of the stock or assets of such party or to an entity into which such party is merged. These Terms shall be binding upon the parties, their successors and their permitted assigns.

19. No Publicity

- 19.1 No party shall: (a) use or display the name, logos, trademark of the other, or the name of any representative of the other for any purpose, without the prior written consent of the other party; or (b) state or imply that the other party endorses or approves any of its services, materials, products or compounds without the prior written consent of the other party.

20. Governing Law

- 20.1 These Terms shall be governed by and construed in accordance with the laws of the Province of Ontario and the federal laws of Canada applicable therein, without regard to its conflict of law provisions. The parties agree that the United Nations Convention on Contracts for the International Sale of Goods does not apply to these Terms. Any legal suit, action, litigation or proceeding of any kind whatsoever in any way arising out of, from or relating to these Terms shall be instituted in the courts of the Province of Ontario, and each party irrevocably submits to the exclusive jurisdiction of such courts in any such suit, action, litigation or proceeding. It is the intention of the parties that in the event disputes should arise over the interpretation and application of these Terms, the parties will first attempt to settle such disputes by negotiation and consultation between the senior executives of Client and Experchem Canada.

21. Disclaimer of Warranties

- 21.1 EXCEPT AS EXPRESSLY SET FORTH IN THESE TERMS, EXPERCHEM CANADA GIVES NO REPRESENTATIONS, WARRANTIES, OR CONDITIONS, EXPRESS, IMPLIED, STATUTORY OR OTHERWISE AND TO THE MAXIMUM EXTENT PERMITTED BY APPLICABLE LAW, EXPERCHEM CANADA SPECIFICALLY DISCLAIMS ANY AND ALL SUCH REPRESENTATIONS, WARRANTIES OR CONDITIONS, WHETHER WRITTEN OR ORAL, INCLUDING, WITHOUT LIMITATION, ANY REPRESENTATION, WARRANTY OR CONDITION OF SUITABILITY, MERCHANTABILITY, NON-INFRINGEMENT OR FITNESS FOR A PARTICULAR PURPOSE.

22. Miscellaneous

- 22.1 Independent Contractor. It is understood and agreed that Experchem Canada shall perform its duties as an independent contractor and not as an agent, employee, partner or joint venture of Client. Neither party shall have the authority to bind or commit the other party in any manner whatsoever and shall not, at any time, hold itself out to third parties as having authority to enter into or incur any commitments, expenses, liabilities or obligations of any nature on behalf of the other party except as permitted in these Terms, an order, or other document expressly providing such authority.
- 22.2 Non-Exclusivity. Nothing in these Terms is intended or shall be construed to create an exclusive relationship between the parties. These Terms shall not restrict either party from providing or receiving similar or like services to or from others.
- 22.3 Amendment. Unless exceptions have been agreed in Section 23, these Terms are deemed accepted by Experchem Canada without signature.
- Terms may be modified from time to time by Experchem Canada as posted at <https://www.eurofins.ca/en/our-services/food-testing-and-analysis/terms-and-conditions/> and unless Client objects with written notice to Experchem Canada prior to placing orders, orders will be governed by the most recent version of these Terms that is in effect at the time Experchem Canada accepts the order. Prior to placing any order, Client will review updated terms at <https://www.eurofins.ca/en/our-services/food-testing-and-analysis/terms-and-conditions/>.
- 22.4 Notices. Any notice required or permitted to be given hereunder by either party shall be in writing and shall be deemed given on the date received if delivered personally, or by reputable overnight delivery service, or three (3) days after the date postmarked if sent by registered or certified mail, return receipt requested, postage prepaid at the registered company address of such party.
- 22.5 Waiver. A waiver of any term, provision or condition of these Terms shall be effective only if it is in writing and no waiver, in any one or more instances, shall be deemed to be or construed as a further or continuing waiver or estoppel of any such term, provision or condition or any other term of these Terms. No failure or delay by either party in exercising any right or remedy under these Terms shall constitute a waiver of such right, nor shall it prevent or restrict its further exercise.
- 22.6 Severability. If a final judicial determination is made that any provision of these Terms is an unenforceable restriction against either party, the provisions hereof will be rendered void only to the extent that such judicial determination finds such provisions unenforceable; and, to the extent possible, such unenforceable provisions shall be deemed replaced by provisions that are valid and enforceable and that come closest to expressing the intention of such invalid or unenforceable provisions. A judicial determination that any provision of these Terms is unenforceable will not render the entire Terms unenforceable, but rather these Terms will continue in full force and effect absent any unenforceable provision to the maximum extent permitted by law.
- 22.7 Counterparts. These Terms may be executed in any number of counterparts, each of which shall be deemed an original and all of which together will constitute one and the same agreement. Electronic or PDF image signatures shall be treated as original signatures. Delivery of an electronic copy of an executed counterpart of these Terms by email shall constitute valid and sufficient delivery thereof.
